

Single Excitatory Synapse – no SRA

When toying around w_s and I_e , it's extremely clear that increasing either of these makes the average firing rate shoot up. For the electrode current specifically, if it's high enough, there will never be a time when the firing is 0.